

OBJECTIVES

Gruppo Strazzeri has as its primary macro-objective to become an international landmark in the management consulting, auditing and training sector in relation to functionality, quality of services and respect of timing and methods of service provision, and considers anti-bribery as one of its key elements, promoting commitment in the fight against bribery.

This macro-objective is achieved by final customer's full satisfaction, identification of customer's needs, continuous improvement of company processes, internal and/or external collaborator's satisfaction and by the consistency with the Code of Ethics and the knowledge of ethical principles and values at all levels.

All the necessary resources will be identified in various reviews of the Organisation to achieve human, infrastructural and economic objectives, as well as efficiency.

Gruppo Strazzeri is not only a for-profit company, but it is also a Benefit Corporation and therefore it is legally engaged in pursuing specific common benefits in favour of its stakeholder.

The goal is to create a shared social value and to this purpose it commits daily to its employers, respecting and protecting their rights, promoting the values of diversity and inclusion and enhancing the qualities and characteristics of each one of them. It is also committed to the local area, building strong relationships with its partners, associations, universities and educational institutions to promote the Prevention of Corruption, Compliance and Sustainability. It is also committed to the remaining stakeholders by spreading Corporate Social Responsibility and Sustainability, promoting inclusive work environments and the implementation of sustainable processes.

COMMITMENTS AND MEANS

To achieve its targets, the Organisation:

- maintains legislative compliance and professional ethics;
- satisfies customer requirements;
- maintains the UNI EN ISO 9001: 2015 certification - Quality Management Systems;

- maintains appropriate "Review and Audit" procedures in order to prevent and/or immediately remove causes of non-conformity regarding both the characteristics of the service and the timing and costs agreed with the customer.

The tools that the company will identify as necessary to achieve its objectives involve the entire Organisation in an integrated corporate vision in which the Quality and Anti-Bribery aspects are combined, in a perfect balance, with all the aspects contributing to outline the corporate strategies.

PROCESS INDICATORS

During the Management Review the "Objectives-Goals-Process Programs" have been defined and reported in (ALMS-QABMS 6-2)/1, in order to define the process macro-objectives, the necessary activities to achieve them and their evaluation indicators with the indication of the target values and the gained ones. The achievement or the deviation of the final period values compared to the target values will be the concrete and global judgment element to evaluate the effectiveness of business, in terms of real satisfaction of the defined company policy.

This Anti-Bribery and Quality Policy is released to all company levels: through direct distribution and company Intranet system, for employees and collaborators, through the publication on the official website of the Organisation and the insertion of specific contractual clauses in the contracts, regarding business partners, suppliers and other business associates.
